Old and Abandoned Cemeteries of Phillips County, Arkansas

Information for this collection of cemeteries was copied by several Phillips County Residents who have an interest in preserving these records. Much information was copied from films of the old Helena newspapers by various members of the Tri-County Genealogy Society. Some information was copied from old funeral home records which are available in the Tri-County Library (Keeshan-Lambert; Cunningham-Haraway; and Brickell Funeral Homes). As more information is received, it will be included here.

Some of these cemeteries have been published in the Phillips County Historical Quarterly, some in the Tri-County Genealogy Journal. I thought it would be nice to have all these old cemeteries recorded together. This listing is an effort to gather them all under one cover.

Loyd and Flora Turner visited fifteen of these old cemeteries and were able to confirm much of this information, and also gathered more. We are especially grateful to Betty Faust, Wanda Ridge and Rose White for sharing their personal records and for their constant support and encouragement in this endeavor.

The Barton Green Cemetery

Contributed by Betty Faust.

The Barton Green Cemetery is located at Barton in Phillips County, Arkansas. It is on the west side of Highway 85 in an open field approximately 100 yards from the highway. To reach the cemetery from Helena, go west on US Highway 49 to the intersection of Highways 49 and 85, about 12 miles from Helena. Turn south on Highway 85, cross the railroad and go one half mile. There is a small white frame church on the east side of the highway and the cemetery is in an overgrown clump of trees on the west side.

The cemetery is about twenty feet square. There is still standing a fence which is overgrown with honeysuckle.

According to the late E. G. "Ned" Green of West Helena, the Green Family came to Phillips County from Yarlington, Kentucky in 1847. Barton Green, Sr. was Sheriff of Phillips County during the Civil War. He and his wife Louisa are listed in the St. Francis Township in the 1860 US Census of Phillips County in the Household of Dr. Russell Shelby. Phillips County Marriage Records, Barton W. Green, age 32, and Lou F. Graves, age 18, were married April 3, 1860. Lou was the daughter of Alexander "Lex" Graves for whom Lexa was named.

Two articles about Barton which refer to the Green Family are Barton by Gene Bradford in the December 1972 issue and Early Settlers of Barton, Part 2, by James V. Belsha in the December 1973 issue of the quarterly.

Brand Cemetery - Helena, Arkansas

Brand Cemetery is located in the Southwest corner of Section 7, Range 2 South, Township 5 East. In Helena, go west on highway 185 (Stringtown Road) from the intersection of Oakland Avenue and Perry Street for 3.2 miles. Turn left, go past home currently owned by Gus Robbins III, approximately 200 yards, take the center fork approximately 100 yards. Cemetery is on a ridge to the left.

This cemetery was also called Brooks's Graveyard by the Helena World Newspaper in the early 1900's. Recorded by Julia Aitken and Wanda Ridge June 19, 1987. Additional information from Lee and Verona Hearn, Livingston, TX.; Keeshan-Lambert and Cunningham-Haraway Funeral Home Records; and Lee Williams, Jr., Helena.

Chamberlain or Smiley Cemetery

The Smiley grave lot is located 9.2 miles from Plaza on 4th Street Road, West Helena, Phillips County, S1 T1S R4E. This lot is fenced with wrought iron fence and gate and had been cared for the year of listing (March 12, 1964). The cemetery has been neglected, the ground eroded and stones broken and mixed together so there was no way to put the pieces together. This plot was discovered by Dick Cunningham while hunting. Recorded by members of Tri-County Genealogical Society. It has not been determined if there are two separate cemeteries, or one large cemetery divided by a gulley. Some of the following information was also recorded in the Phillips County Historical Quarterly, March 1965.

Gamble Cemetery - Marvell, Arkansas

Copied in the fall of 1991 by Loyd and Flora Turner, in addition to information previously copied by Rose White.

This cemetery, in some publications in the early 1900's, was called Midway Burial Grounds. It is located about six miles north of Marvell in Section 27, R2E, T2S. This is a very old cemetery, mostly overgrown with brush and trees. The grave markers are scattered over a very large area, grown over and covered by the bushes. Those still visible and which can be read are as follows:

Edwin A. Hicks Family Burial Ground

At Latour, AR out in a field about 1/2 mile from Latour (in view of RR track) and about 10 or 12 miles from Helena, is the burial ground of the Edwin A. Hicks family. Edwin was a brother of John H. Hicks, and lived about three miles away. All the stones are down, some of the bodies have been moved and the graveyard almost destroyed.

Lamb Cemetery

The Lamb Cemetery is another Phillips County landmark that had been completely demolished by pasturing it to cows. At one time it had been fenced and had tall brick posts at the corners. These had been broken off and the bricks scattered among the overturned and trampled marble markers. History credits Lamb as firing the cannon that gave the Confederates the signal to start the battle of Helena. After the battle the Federal Army came, burned the smoke house full of meat and turned the livestock into the fields where the crops were growing. Mr. Lamb took a cold from exposure that day and took to his bed and soon died. (Written by Louise Mixon Griffin).

Note: Mr. Lamb is buried in the Confederate Cemetery.

Lollar Chapel Cemetery

A very old cemetery located along the Phillips - Lee County line between the towns of Marvell and Rondo near a small Church known as the Lollar Chapel. The true name of this cemetery is unknown, but was called Lollar Chapel by Tim M. Thompson of Belleville IL in his history of the Calvert, Watson, Dougherty, and Turner family lines. "It was destroyed and farmed over many years ago." Written by Tim M. Thompson, printed in the Tri-County Genealogy Journal 1987.

Weatherly Cemetery

The Weatherly burial plot is almost a hundred years old. This site was one of my first listings. It was discovered by my oldest grand-son while attending cows in a pasture and is now part of the Helena Country Club Golf Green, located on a hill 2.2 miles off Oakland on Wire Road. When the Green was under construction, a promise was made that all the stones would be placed flat on the ground so the inscriptions could be read. I do not know if the promise was kept. This was a family plot near an old homestead site. There were indications that more graves were there, but these were the only stones, all of white marble.
(Copied from Volume VII No 2 1969 Phillips County Historical Society, an article written by Louise Mixon Griffin.)
